Dialogue 1.1.2

Paula and John are talking about evening classes. Read it orally first, listen to the dialogue in the VCD, and then find a partner to practice it.

- Paula : Do you want to take an evening class with me at the community college?
- John : Maybe. What are they offering?
- Paula : Well, here's the course catalogue. Take a look.
- John : Hmm. They've got a lot of language classes – Chinese, German, and Japanese. Would you rather learn an Asian language or a European one?
- Paula : Um, actually, I think I'd rather take an art class. They have one on landscape photography and another on making videos.
- John : That's sounds OK. But I think I'd prefer studying video to learning about photography.
- Paula : Oh wait. It says here that you need to provide your own video equipment.
- John : Oh, I'd rather not spend a lot of money. Let's see what else they're offering.

Of course you do understand what Paula and John talk about. To check it, answer these questions..

Questions

1. What kind of courses is the community college offering?
2. Which courses would Paula prefer?
3. Which courses would John prefer?

Are your answers parallel with these?

1. The community college is offering ... course.
2. Paula prefers ... course.
3. John would prefer

Now, go to the next activity where you have to learn the explanation and discussion of the principle things of the subject of this unit.

C. DISCUSSION

To question and answer about somebody's like or dislike, you may use the following expressions.

1. In a neutral situation you can say:

A : What do you like to do during your spare time?

B : like traveling.

I love traveling very much.

I'm very keen on traveling.

I really enjoy traveling.

There's nothing I like more than traveling.

A : What do you dislike to do during your vacations?

B : I don't like traveling (I'm afraid).

I'm not very keen on traveling.

There's nothing I like less than traveling.

I think traveling is unpleasant.

2. In a formal situation, we can say:

A : May I ask you what you like to do in your spare time?

B : I'm very fond of traveling.

What I greatly enjoy is traveling.

Traveling is one of my favorite pastimes.

A : May I ask what you dislike during your vacation?

B : I must say I'm not too fond of traveling.

I especially dislike traveling.

I have to admit I rather dislike traveling.

3. In an informal situation, you can say:

A : What do you like to do in your spare time?

B : I'm crazy about traveling.

You can't beat traveling.

A : What do you dislike to do in your vacations?

B : I can't bear traveling.

I can't stand traveling.

To ask about one's specific favorites or likes, you say:

What sort of movies do you like?

What kind of fruit does she like?

What movies do you like?

What clothes does he like?

To answer the above questions, you say:

I like James Bond movies.

She likes mangoes.

I like musical movies.

He likes casual clothes.

To ask about the degree of somebody's likes or dislikes, use "how much ...".

You can say:

How much do you like western movies?

How much do you dislike western movies?

How much do you like staying at home?

How much do you hate working on Sundays?

To answer the above questions, you say:

I really like them

I don't like them at all.

I just like them a little.

I hate them.

To ask about somebody's preferences, you can use "like ... better" or "prefer..".

Which do you like better?

Which do you prefer?

To answer those questions, you can use "like .. better than" or "prefer... to". You can ask:

I like camping better than staying in hotels.

I like listening to music better than watching TV

I like tea better than coffee

I prefer driving to traveling by train.

or:

I prefer to drive rather than travel by train.

I prefer to live in the country rather than live in a city.

You can use “would rather” or “would prefer” to say what someone wants to do in a particular situation. “Would rather” is followed by the base form of the verb. “Would prefer” is followed by a gerund or an infinitive. The patterns are:

Would rather + Verb 1

Would prefer + Gerund

For negation, both are followed by not.

Examples:

X : Would you prefer tea or coffee?

Y : Coffee, please.

A : Would you rather learn an Asian language or a European one?

B : Actually, I'd rather take an art class than study a foreign language.

C : Would you prefer to take a video or photography class?

D : I'd prefer to study video.

E : Do you want to take an evening course?

F : I'd rather not. / I'd prefer not to.

Can you follow the discussion of the patterns and how to use them in asking and answering preferences? To make you more skillful, go on to the next activity. In the following parts, you have to do several tasks seriously. To check your responses to the tasks, please compare them with the ones provided in the final pages of this module.

D. LEARNING TASKS

Task 1:

Larry is going to talk about “his likes and dislikes”. Complete his talk by giving the correct form of the words in the brackets. Then in your own words, talk about what Larry likes and dislikes.

First, I am going to tell you about the things I like. I (enjoy/play) tennis and I (be fond of/swim). Last year I succeeded in passing my junior lifesaver's test and I hope to take the senior test next year. I want to be trained as a teacher of physical education when I leave school. If the weather is fine, I always (like / be) out-of-doors, if possible, but I (prefer / stay) indoors when it is cold or wet. However, it is fun going to a disco on a cold winter's evening, even though I am not good at dancing.

Now, some of the things I do not like. I started to smoke when I was only 12, but I stop buying cigarettes three years ago, and I simply hate to smell tobacco now. I believe it is always best to tell the truth, so I (dislike / lie) and it makes me angry when someone does something wrong and then deny doing it.

Task 2:

Read the article, then complete the chart about Tatum O'Neal and John McEnroe's likes and dislikes. Put a plus mark (+) for like or a cross (x) for dislike. Then in your own words, talk about what Tatum O'Neal and John McEnroe's likes and dislikes to a friend.

When Hollywood actress Tatum O'Neal and tennis 'super brat' John McEnroe first teamed up, friends on both sides were surprised. The immediate reaction from everyone was, in McEnroe's famous phrase, 'You cannot be serious!'

Today they are happily married with three children, despite many differences. She hates New York in winter, he likes it. She is keen on antiques, he prefers modern furniture. While he adores steak and lobster, she'd rather have chicken and fish.

Even their personalities are different. He is a bit of a hermit and enjoys staying at home, whereas she is fond of going out at night. He can't stand any invasion of his privacy, she quite enjoys the attention of the press. He is dependent on her and sometimes lacking in self-confidence, she is self-sufficient and confident.

But their differences end there. Like McEnroe, Tatum is also famous for her temper tantrums. Says Tatum: 'John and I have some beautiful sights. He gets angry and says: "You know who you are? The female John McEnroe! And you've got all his worst qualities!"

	She	He
New York in winter	x	√
Modern furniture
Steak and lobster
Going out at night
The attention of the press

Check your answers with the Key which is provided at the end of this module, and score your right answers. Then use the formula below to know your achievement level of the lesson in this module.

$$\text{Level of achievement} = \frac{\text{Score of the right answers}}{\text{Total score}} \times 100\%$$

Meaning of level of achievement: 90 - 100% = very good
80 - 89% = good
70 - 79% = average
< 70% = bad

If your level of achievement reaches 80% or more, you can on to the next unit. Good! But if your level of mastery is less than 80%, you have to study again this unit, especially parts which you haven't mastered.

1. ask about someone's experiences that happened in the past,
2. tell personal and people's experiences that happen in the past.

B. DIALOGUE 1.2.1

Read the following text to get the context. Then turn on the VCD recorder, listen to the dialogue and practice it yourself.

Presenter:

Good evening our programmed tonight is about disasters. This year there have been fires, plane crashes, earthquakes and volcanic eruptions. All our guests have survived from disasters.

Hi I'm Bill Daniels. I live in Chicago. I was working in my office on the 28th floor of skyscraper. I was dictating some letters to my secretary when the fire-bell rang. I rushed out to the lift but it wasn't working. The stairs were full of thick smoke. We couldn't go down, so we had to go up to the roof. When we got there, some people were waiting calmly. Others were shouting and screaming wildly. A helicopter managed to land on the roof and rescued six of us before the building collapsed.

My name's Martha Huggins. I was on holiday in the south Pacific and I was staying on Pogohiti, a small island. I was having a rest when the volcano erupted. The noise woke me up. I looked through the window. Everybody was running to the harbor. I just put on a coat, and ran to the harbor too. I managed to get on a ship. I was leaving when the lava hit the town.

Hello, I'm George Green. I'm a farmer. I was working in the field behind my house when I saw the plane. It was on fire. Smoke was coming from the engines, and it was coming down fast. I was running toward my house when it crashed into the trees behind me. I heard a terrible explosion ... when I woke up I was lying in a hospital bed.

Good evening. My name is Ahmed. My wife and I were staying with friends on Santa Monica in the Caribbean. We were having dinner when the earthquake began. Everything shook. All plates and food fell onto the floor. We were picking everything up when the ceiling fell onto us. We couldn't move, and we had to wait for three hours before help arrived.

B. QUESTIONS

After listening to the stories of the four persons after a disaster, do you get the information? Then, to check your understanding, answer the following questions.

- 1) What kinds of disaster did the TV reporter present?
- 2) Who presented terrible experiences in the program?
- 3) What kind of disaster did Bill Daniels survive from?
- 4) What was Bill doing when the disaster occur?
- 5) What kind of disaster did Martha Huggins survive from?
- 6) What was Huggins doing when the disaster occur?
- 7) What kind of disaster did George Green survive from?
- 8) What was Green doing when the disaster occurred?
- 9) What kind of disaster did Ahmed and his wife survive from?
- 10) What were they doing when the disaster occur?

Can you answer the questions? Of course you can! Check yours with the following short answers.

- 1) There are five kinds, fires, plane crashes, earthquakes and volcanic eruptions.
- 2) Bill Daniels, Martha Huggins, George Green, and Ahmed.
- 3) Daniels survived from fire.

- 4) Bill was dictating some letters to his secretary.
- 5) Huggins survived from volcanic eruptions.
- 6) Huggins was having rest on his holiday on Pogohiti.
- 7) George Green survived from fire of a plane crash.
- 8) He was working in the field.
- 9) Ahmed and his wife survived from earthquake.
- 10) They were having dinner with friends on Santa Monica.

Are satisfied with your answers. No? Listen and read again the monologues. If yes, let's go to the next part. Let's learn the discussion on the main patterns of sentences used in this unit.

C. DISCUSSION

1. The Simple Past Tense

We use the simple past tense to describe actions or situation or experiences that happen in the past. Example:

- a. The skyscraper building was on fire and it collapsed.
- b. The volcano in a small island erupted.
- c. The plane crashed and exploded in the field.
- d. The earthquake destroyed their house.

Very often the simple past ends in _ed. But many important verbs are irregular. This means that the simple past does not end in _ed:

leave --- left	We left the party at 11: 00 pm last night.
go ---- went	Last month I went to Surabaya to see a friend of mine.
cost ---- cost	This house cost $75. 000 in 1980.

The past of the verb be (am/is/are) is was/were:

I	}	was	We]	were
He/She			You
It			They

Example: I was angry because Tom and Ann were late.

In simple past questions and negatives we use did/didn't + the base form.

Anne : Did you go out last night, Tom?

Tom : Yes, I went to the movie but I didn't enjoy it.

But do not use did with the verb be (was/were):

1. Why were you so angry?
2. Was Tom at work yesterday?
3. They weren't able to come because they were very busy.

We use past continuous to say that someone was in the middle of doing something at a certain time. The action or situation had already started before this time but hadn't finished:

1. I was dictating some letters to my secretary when the fire-bell rang.
2. What were you doing at 10:00 last night?

The past continuous does not tell us whether an action was finished or not. Perhaps it was finished, perhaps not. Compare:

1. They were having dinner. (past continuous) = they were in the middle of having dinner and we don't know whether they finished eating.
2. They had dinner. (simple past) = he began and finished it.

We often use the past continuous (I was doing) and the simple past (I did) together to say that something happened in the middle of something else:

1. Dan burned his hand while he was cooking dinner.
2. I saw Jim in the park. He was cooking dinner.
3. It was raining when I got up.
4. While I was working in the garden, I hurt my back.

But to say that one thing happened after another, use the simple past or past perfect.

Last night Sue was taking a bath when the phone rang. She got out of the bathtub and answered the phone.

Compare these three sentences:

1. When Helen arrived, we were having dinner. (past continuous) = We had already started dinner before Helen arrived.
2. When Helen arrived, we had dinner. (simple past) = Helen arrived and then we had dinner.
3. We had finished our dinner when Helen arrived. (past perfect) = We finished our dinner first then Helen arrived.

Well, you have learnt much the sentence patterns and the tense appropriately used in describing events in the past. To implement those patterns into practice in communication, go on to the next part containing several learning tasks. Do them seriously.

Check your answers with the Key which is provided at the end of this module, and score your right answers. Then use the formula below to know your achievement level of the lesson in this module.

$$\text{Level of achievement} = \frac{\text{Score of the right answers}}{\text{Totalscore}} \times 100\%$$

Meaning of level of achievement: 90 - 100% = very good
 80 - 89% = good
 70 - 79% = average
 < 70% = bad

If your level of achievement reaches 80% or more, you can on to the next Unit. Good! But if your level of mastery is less than 80%, you have to study again this unit, especially parts which you haven't mastered.

UNIT 3

The Past and Personal Experiences

After completing this unit, with 80% accuracy, you should be able to:

1. ask questions about the weather;
2. describe the weather;
3. ask questions about the climate of a country;
4. describe the climate of a country;
5. comment on the weather to start a DIALOGUE;

E. LEARNING TASKS

Task 1:

Take in turns to make a comment about the weather pictured below. Use these expressions: What's the weather like?

It's ...

Number 1 has been done for you.

Example A : What is the weather like?

 B : It's windy.

Task 2:

The weather is closely related to what people wear. Ask a friend as a partner to make a talk about what people wear in certain weather.

You ask : “What do people wear when the day is cold?”

You friend answer: “People wear jacket when it (the day) is cold.”

Take turns to address questions and give responses using situation and things in the following column.

Weather		People wear
cold	cloudy	boot	sandals
cool	snowy	coat	t-shirt
hot	sunny	gloves	shorts
warm	rainy	hat	sweater
windy	jeans	jacket	sunglasses

Task 3:

Below is a list of chart that tells you the weather and various activities in London during different seasons. Study this chart.

Weather: London

	Winter	Spring	Summer	Autumn
Weather	cold rain cloudy	clear humid sweaty	hot humid sweaty	windy cool
Things to do	stay at home watch TV read novels	plants flowers walk barbecue	go to beach travel	walk in park
Sports	ski skate	baseball	football	football

Based on the above chart, work in pairs, take turns to ask and give comments about the weather. Use the following questions.

What’s the weather like ... ?

What do people do during the ... ?

What sport is popular during the ... ?

Study the examples

A : What's the weather like in London during the winter?

B : It's cold. It rains a lot.

A : What do people do during the winter?

Task 4:

Look at the “Weather Around Indonesia” in a newspaper. What is the weather like in different cities and how would it affect your activities there? Tell someone about them orally.

Example:

A : I think it will be cloudy in Bandung tomorrow and it will rain in the afternoon.

B : Shouldn't we go there by tomorrow?

Task 5:

The adverbs frequency, e.g. always, usually, often, sometimes, never are used to modify the weather. Make some sentences with the adverbs of frequency to describe the climate in where you live in.

Use the names of each month if necessary, for example:

- 1) It often rains in October in Jakarta.
- 2) There's usually a lot of rain in April.

Task 6:

Work in pairs, then create a DIALOGUE about the weather this morning when you left home.

SUMMARY

Up to this part, you have learnt and practiced how to use various sentences and expressions to describe the weather in Europe and Indonesia. In order to assess your progress, let's do the following formative test.

FORMATIVE TEST 3

Here is the outlook for tomorrow:

10 C

heavy rain

gale force winds

Based on the above information, you can make a forecast. For example”

“The forecast says it will be quite cool and it’s going to rain heavily.

It’s going to be extremely windy. So it sounds like a day to stay at home and do some reading.”

Here are some more forecasts. Report them in the same way above and discuss how the weather will affect people activities.

18 C	rain	windy
32 C	clear	no wind
16 C	cloudy	strong wind
22 C	clear	no wind
31 C	rain	gale force wind
20 C	Cloudy	strong wind

Check your answers with the Key which is provided at the end of this module, and score your right answers. Then use the formula below to know your achievement level of the lesson in this module.

$$\text{Level of achievement} = \frac{\text{Score of the right answers}}{\text{Totalscore}} \times 100\%$$

Meaning of level of achievement: 90 - 100% = very good

80 - 89% = good

70 - 79% = average

< 70% = bad

If your level of achievement reaches 80% or more, you can on to the next unit. Good! But if your level of mastery is less than 80%, you have to study again this unit, especially parts which you haven’t mastered.

UNIT 4

The Past and Personal Experiences

A. SPECIFIC INSTRUCTIONAL OBJECTIVES

After completing this unit, with 80% accuracy, you should be able to:

1. ask the events of someone's life;
2. describe the life's events of himself/herself or other people.

B. DIALOGUE IN CONTEXTDialogue 1.4.1

Alan and LINA are talking about what happened to them in the past.

Pay attention to the verb forms in the sentences.

Turn on the VCD recorder and listen to the dialogue carefully.

Alan : So, what were you like as a kid?

Lina : When I was a kid, I was kind of rebellious.

Alan : You? Really? What was the turning point?

Lina : When I graduated from high school.

Alan : What do you mean?

Lina : Until you graduate, you don't understand that life is just beginning. After I finished high school, I realized that I still had a lot to learn.

Alan : I know what you mean. I was really immature when I was a kid.

Lina : What changed?

Alan : I think I became more mature after I got my first job. Once you have a job, you learn to be more independent.

Lina : That's true. Where did you work?

Alan : In my father's bank.

Do you get the message? You do? Answer these questions.

C. QUESTIONS

1. What was Lina like when she was a kid?
2. What was her turning point?
3. What was Alan like when he was a kid?

Check your answer with the following ones:

1. When she was a kid Lina was like a rebel.
2. Her turning point was when she graduated high school.
3. He was really immature
4. His first job.

Now let's learn the theoretical aspects of sentence patterns and how they are used.

D. DISCUSSION

When you are telling about events in someone's life, you usually describe them in chronological order, using the time clause, examples:

By the time I was high school, I had got my first job.

The moment I got my first job, I felt like a different person.

Before I had my first job, I was really immature.

Once you have a job, I realized that I still had a lot to learn.

As soon as I graduated, I started to be more sensible.

Until you graduate, you don't understand that life is just beginning.

When someone is describing events to you, you can keep the DIALOGUE moving by asking specific questions:

When was that?

When did he drop out of school?

What did he do then/after that?

Well, try to implement the knowledge you learnt into practice by doing the following learning tasks step by step. Check your responses to each task with the key provided in the end parts of this module.

Talk with a partner and check (√) one or more ages for each behavior.

Ask questions and answer like this:

A : Why don't you tell me something about your life?

B : OK. Where would you like me to start?

A : Well, where were you born?

B :
